Reaching our goals in anything we do in life depends on having a team of people you trust to help you carry out the work needed to meet those goals. It is no different with Rotary.

Steps To Build And Motivate YOUR Team:

- You must first set your goals for the team to achieve
- You must know and state the expectations for the individual members
- You must match those expectations with the skill-set of potential team members
- Recruit team members (including young leaders who may need mentoring)
- Train members of the team and delegate responsibilities
- Have an accountability plan in place
- Have consistent and continuous communication including “kudos” and offers of assistance
- Plan a team debrief of how goals were met
- Lastly, thank each team member & have a team CELEBRATION
